People do not understand that a property needs to be periodically washed to ensure the nitrates, metal oxides and salts are washed off the surface.

Lock out the O^2

Treated with SEA TO SKY to etch the surface minimally and in the process - changing the colour of the 'rustical... then a professional application of Nyalic seals the surface.

Even on the best jobs

Lock out the O^2

Even the best architectural property will show a bit of rust. Twenty years ago, maybe not so much but over the years the quality of steelwork has diminished.
Stainless Steel in STAIN LESS, to 100% rust proof so you do require to give it a periodic washing with fresh water.

A fresh water wash is important for all Australian buildings at least yearly to protect the asset.
